GEORGE C. MYERS IS DEAD -- Passed Away Sunday After a Long Illness.

George C. Myers one of Glynn county's oldest citizens passed away at his home, the Myers place, at the head of Turtle river, Sunday, and was laid to rest yesterday in the family burial ground.

The deceased was a civil engineer and a farmer. He was a gallant[?] Confederate soldier and served throughout the war in the Twenty-Sixth Georgia regiment, before seriously injured at the battle of Cedar Creek. After the war he returned to this county and has resided here since.

The deceased leaves a wife and several children.
