Joe Borchardt Dies Here Today

Joseph Borchardt, one of Glynn County's oldest residents, died this morning at his home at 501 Norwich Street.

Mr. Borchardt suffered a heart attack several weeks ago and was believed to have been recovering before his death.

Born in Brunswick January 27, 1876, he attended schools here and was graduated from Glynn Academy, and had resided here all of his life.

For many years Mr. Borchardt was engaged in the retail meat business in Brunswick, but retired a number of years ago. The market on Grant street which he operated was established many years ago by his late father, and older Brunswickians will remember it as the "Washington Market."

Funeral services have been tentatively scheduled for 11 o'clock Thursday morning at the chapel of Miller's Funeral Home, and the family requests that no flowers be sent. The names of pallbearers have not been announced.

Mr. Borchardt is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minnie G. Borchardt, and a sister, Mrs. Ila Lilienthal of Brunswick.
