

Ann Clark

Advertiser & Appeal; Wednesday 16 October 1878; pg. 3 col. 2

ONE BY ONE

The young may die, but the old must-for it is so decreed. One by one we cross the river and rest on the other side. We chronicle this week, the death of Mrs. A.C. Clark of this city, an old and respected citizen. She has lived her "three score years and ten" but the summons came, at last, and she is gone, leaving behind many to mourn her loss.
