

Clarinda Colesberry

The Brunswick News; Thursday 11 December 1912; pg. 1 col. 2

ESTIMABLE LADY PASSES AWAY -- Mrs. C.H. Colesberry Breathed Her Last Yesterday.

It is with great sadness that The News chronicles the death of Mrs. C.H. Colesberry, which occurred at her residence on Egmont street, at 7 o'clock last night. The deceased was known and loved by many and was one of those good women who made the world better for having lived in it.

Mrs. Colesberry was 74 years of age and has been a resident of Brunswick since 1860, coming to this city from Philadelphia. She was the relict of the late Capt. S.C. Colesberry, commander of the old revenue cutter Nancyman, which made this port headquarters.

Besides many other relatives, the deceased leaves six children, Mrs. A.V. Wood, Misses Lula and Florrie Colesberry of this city, Mrs. R.T. Hitch of Waycross, Miss Nellie Colesberry of Jacksonville, and W.B. Colesberry of Tampa.

The funeral will take place from St. Marks Episcopal church, of which she was a consistent member, at 10:30 tomorrow morning, interment private.

Published: 12/11/1912