Eugene Creamer is Found Dead in a Local Hotel; Well Known Man Apparently in Good Health up to Tuesday

Eugene T. Creamer, well known citizen, was found dead in the Dixie hotel, corner Newcastle and Monk streets, this morning. Deceased had been in apparently good health recently.

From the appearance of the body death must have come yesterday, as the condition of the corpse indicated that he had been dead for many hours.

Deceased was born and has lived in Brunswick all of his life and for the past several years he has been connected with the C. & O. pressing club on Monk street. He was whole-souled and had scores of friends. He leaves few relatives here or elsewhere.
