Advertiser & Appeal; Saturday 19 January 1884; pg. 7 col. 4

It is our painful duty to chronicle three deaths in our city this week...

Third, Mr. L.D. Hoyt, Senior member of the hardware firm of L.D. Hoyt & Co., of this city. Mr. Hoyt came to our city some twelve or fourteen years ago. Full of life and energy, he has ever worked to build up our city and increase her material prosperity. The influence of such men as he is always felt in every community. But he is gone, and we shall see his happy face no more in our midst. His funeral took place at his residence on Thursday afternoon last, Rev. A.C. Ward officiating. He leaves a wife and several young children, besides a grown son, to mourn his loss.
