LATE H.S. M'CRARY BURIED YESTERDAY

The funeral of the late H.S. McCrary, who passed away here Tuesday, was held yesterday afternoon from the First Baptist church, Rev. T.W. Simpson of the Presbyterian church conducting the services.

The large church was well filled with sorrowing friends of this old an popular Brunswickian, who had made his home here and who had been identified with the business interests of the city for more than half a century. Many beautiful floral tributes covered the chancel of the church.

The passing of Mr. McCrary has cast a shadow of gloom over his unusually large circle of friends, and the sympathy of the city has gone out to the bereaved family.
