

William Rainey

Historical Newspapers, Birth, Marriage, & Death Announcements, 1851-2003; The Atlanta Constitution; 12 January 1896

BURST A BLOOD VESSEL-SUDDEN DEATH OF W.H. RAINEY AT Brunswick-While at His Desk He Had a Severe Spell of Coughing and Dropped Dead.

Brunswick, Ga., January 11-(Special)-W.H. Rainey [sic], ex-deputy clerk of the superior court, dropped dead in the clerk's office today while standing at his desk writing. His death was due to the bursting of a blood vessel while in a fit of coughing. His body is being cared for by friends and will receive a nice burial. He left no family, but has relatives elsewhere, who have been notified.

Published: 1/12/1896