

W Scarlett

Advertiser & Appeal; Saturday 19 January 1884; pg. 7 col. 4

SUMMONED HENCE

It is our painful duty to chronicle three deaths in our city this week.

First, Mr. Gus Scarlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Scarlett, of Spring Bluff, Camden county, a young man of happy promise. He had just arrived at full manhood, and had a bright and promising future before him, but the summons came, and his young spirit left to return to God who gave it. He was a member of the Methodist church, and at the time of his death, and for months past, has been in the employ of Mr. R.B. Reppard in this city. His remains were taken to the old family cemetery, near Fancy Bluff for interment. As we saw that fond mother, devoted father and loving brother and sister follow his remains on board the steamer that was to bear them hence, we could but rejoice in the thought that in the Great Beyond there shall be no more separation.

[rest of article omitted as it has nothing to do with W.G. Scarlett--ALH]